Wineries

Büyülübağ winery is established by Alp Toruner on Avşa Island, Marmara Sea, Turkey. The island with a history of viticulture and wine making since 1800's, has a unique microclimate and sandy-loam soil. Our vision is to grace the island's indigeneous grape variety 'Adakarasi' with international awareness and to exploit the potential of the well-adapted cosmopolitan grape varieties in the Avşa Island's terroir. At present Büyülübağ has 20 hectares of vineyards consisting of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Syrah, Chardonnay and Adakarasi. The best fitted root stocks are chosen resulting from the soil climate analysis conducted in France.

The winery construction has begun in October 2004 with this no pumps, no damage strategy. In our four level facility, there is a tasting room at the top level with a wonderful view. Production takes place between the rest three levels; the grape processing begins at the first level, with picking bins tipped on the first vibrating sorting table, then stem remover, the second vibrating sorting table and into a crusher/stemmer on this level. The tanks are at the lower level so crushed berries drained into tanks at this second level. Finally at the lowest level, there is the barrel cellar which is located under the ground level, water insulated, therefore it has a 70% annual average of humidity and 14° C of heat. The cellar consists of Burgundy and Bordeaux style 225 lt. French oak barrels. With our gravity flow winery, which is the first and only one of its kind in Turkey, Büyülübağ ensures that wine movement is slower, and therefore gentler and more controllable. The resulting wine is better because it has been moved in a more delicate manner that preserves its inherent qualities.

Today Büyülübağ Winery and Vineyards produce stylish, elegant and rich wines that already won medals at national and international wine competitions.

After many years in the wine business, presents its portfolio reflecting years of experience and passion devoted to perfection.

A testament to the true potential of our vineyards, the Kayra wine family is an important proof in our ongoing passion to improve winemaking in Turkey. Under the guidance of winemaker Daniel O'Donnell, from soil to grape variety, harvest to bottling, Kayra aims to bring the rich history and generous spirit of Anatolia to lovers of fine wine.

Kayra wines are produced from both indigenous Anatolian grapes as well as international grapes grown in the best vineyards that are true to our "on-site production" philosophy.

Our Elazığ Winery in Eastern Anatolia was established in 1942, and the Şarköy Winery in Thrace was established in 1996 with annual capacities of 4.7 and 4.5 million litres respectively. We have our own vineyards both in Elazığ and Sarköy. The wide variety of Kayra wines offer diversity under the brands Kayra Imperial, Kayra Versus, Kayra Buzbag Rezerv, Terra Anatolia and Buzbag.

Today, Kayra's fine unique tastes from Anatolia are listed in many international fine dining restaurants and are receiving awards in international competitions.

In 2008, Kayra established the Kayra Wine Center as a wine training and information center. This project aims to create a platform for wine and horeca professionals, wine enthusiasts and academics in Turkey. Kayra Wine Center is also the Turkish Programme Provider for WSET (Wine and Spirits Education Trust).

Born in Anatolia, wine has always been among mankind's most noble culinary achievements; so much so that it has been known as the "water of life," and referred to in sayings like "the truth is in the wine." Now, it is time for wine to regain its glory in the land where it belongs.

LA was born amidst great history and civilizations. We carry the impressions of our rich culture and history to our modern days. We combine the land, water, climate of Aegean region with our love and patience and present a unique world full of different tastes. We bring you (together with) what the metropolises of civilizations shared for thousands of years as Consensus, Mon Rêve, Smyrna and Idol.

LA Project was founded with a dream to produce wines in world standards in Aegean Lands which has been the cradle of winery and viticulture for hundreds of years.

LA Vineyards, the largest vineyard in Turkey on a single lot has been established on land with 1,168 acres in Torbali of Izmir. The characteristic of the soil and the climate has been examined by experts. In consequence of soil and climate analysis, the saplings supplied from Europe have been shipped to LA Vineyards by means of special air conditioned vehicles. Qualified wine grape species such as Tempranillo, Chenin Blanc, Viognier, Marselan, Trebbiano, Ugni Blanc, Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Chardonnay, and Misket, supposed to be accommodated to the soil and climate conditions of Aegean and some of them have never been planted in Turkey before, have been determined to be planted in LA Vineyards. The grapes have been started to be settled by using organic viticulture methods for the first time in Turkey in order to preserve the original fruit characteristics.

Registered by Ecocert, we have raised our grapes in our vineyard without using any hormones, synthetic chemical pesticides and fertilizers by using organic viticulture methods. Thus, we manage to preserve original fruit aromas generated by the grape terroirs in a natural way. Furthermore, we contribute to restructuring natural balance being spoiled by means of organic viticulture which is a human and nature friendly production method.
